Mid-Atlantic Corporate Chooses ZixCorp Email Encryption Services

Move to encryption service provider reflects Corporate's strong focus on security

Middletown, Pa. (July 25, 2011) – Recent headlines illustrate the cost to businesses and their customers when cyber-criminals are able to breach network security. Mid-Atlantic Corporate Federal Credit Union recognizes the critical importance of protecting its member credit unions' information and has selected ZixCorp® Email Encryption Services to maintain the security of sensitive information. Mid-Atlantic Corporate uses ZixGateway®, a policy-based email encryption service, to automatically scan all outbound email and encrypt messages with sensitive information.

“Security is a top priority at Mid-Atlantic Corporate and Zix Corporation’s reputation as a trusted, reliable provider of email security makes it a logical choice,” said Richard Carberry, Security Administrator for Mid-Atlantic Corporate. “Their products deliver the best in email encryption technology with convenient delivery.”

Cyber-crime statistics point to a burgeoning problem that is expected to swell as companies and consumers grow increasingly comfortable sharing valuable data online and in emails. Carberry says guarding the Corporate’s member information is of prime importance to Mid-Atlantic Corporate.

“We selected Zix Corporation because it is committed to informing client companies about security issues, and email encryption is a very effective tool in our security arsenal,” Carberry said.

“We greatly appreciate that ZixCorp Email Encryption Services are viewed as a valuable component of Mid-Atlantic Corporate’s security strategy,” said Rick Spurr, ZixCorp’s Chairman and CEO. “Our priority is to offer the industry’s leading email encryption technology with the ease of use that our customers and their business partners demand. Mid-Atlantic Corporate’s trust in our services is a significant validation of Zix Corporation.”

Zix Corporation is one of several sponsors of Mid-Atlantic Corporate’s IT and Security Conference to be held August 16-17, 2011 in Harrisburg, Pa.
